

On behalf of the Alzheimer's Disease Initiative and the Memory Disorder Clinics at the University of Miami we would like to invite you to participate in this year's ADI educational training series designed to provide knowledge, skills, and methods of coping to family caregivers, professionals and others involved in the care of individuals with Alzheimer's disease and other memory disorders.

This year the ADI educational series will be provided via live FREE Webinars to address emerging concerns and impact of COVID-19 pandemic on patients with Alzheimer's Disease and related dementias, their families and caregivers and care professionals that provide care in this very unprecedented time.

The Memory Disorder Clinics at the University of Miami and EasterSeals of South Florida are pleased to present:

Wednesday, June 23rd, from 7pm to 9pm:

Dementia and problem behaviors: how the pandemic has affected patients with dementias.
Dr. Marcela Kitaigorodsky, University of Miami, Department of Psychiatry.

The emotional impact of the pandemic: symptoms of depression and anxiety in patients and caregivers. Dr. Rosie Curiel, University of Miami, Department of Psychiatry.

Friday, June 25th, from 7pm to 9pm:

Preparing and planning during adverse times: the COVID virus, variants, and vaccines.

Community services available during the COVID-19 pandemic.

To register please click on this link: Go to the Spanish Registration Invitation